CITY OF CASSVILLE

What: Municipal airport reopened
Why: $5.2 million improvement project
Changes: Replacing the asphalt on the 3,599-foot by 60-foot, east-west runway, and in the fueling area, with concrete

Cassville Airport reopens

$5.2 million project funded 95% by state, federal monies

BY SHEILA HARRIS

sheilaharrisads@gmail.com

Everything's flying along again after a $5.2 million improvement project at the Cassville Airport.

"Ninety-five percent of the project was funded by state and federal funds, which left the City with a balance of $250,000," said Richard Asbill, Cassville city administrator.

After its closure on April 20, the airport reopened for air traffic on Sept. 28.

"The project was completed on-schedule and on-budget," Asbill said.

Airport improvements included replacing the asphalt on the 3,599-foot by 60-foot, east-west runway, and in the fueling area, with concrete.

"We removed all of the asphalt and base from the original runway, and replaced it with a new 8-inch base, plus 6 inches of new concrete," Asbill said.

Earthwork was also completed for the possibility of a future runway extension to accommodate larger airplanes.

The renovation project included a new fuel system, with a 12,000-gallon capacity, and a new pilots' lounge.

"Before we closed for construction in April, we went through about 5,000 or 6,000 gallons of aviation fuel every five or six months," Asbill said.

Asbill said the city offers competitive prices for airplane fuel.

"We have a lot of pilots stop in who are making their way cross-country," Asbill said. "The Cassville Airport is a convenient location for them to take a break, use the restroom, study flight plans, look at the weather ahead of them, and fuel up."

Asbill said he's been asked a few times why Cassville needs an airport.

"The airport is a viable part of our economic base and future vision," Asbill said. "For one thing, it's conducive to tourism, because of our location near Roaring River and Northwest Arkansas. Our hangars are an affordable space for pilots to keep their airplanes."

Asbill said he's received requests for hangar space, which he's been unable to accommodate, from at least 14 pilots.

POWER OF PINK

What: Nine recipients this year
Experiences: Vary from woman to woman
More: All Pink Ladies thankful for support when facing breast cancer

Power of Pink recipients share journeys, gratitude

9 ladies share stories of breast cancer diagnoses, battles

BY KYLE TROUTMAN

ktroutman@cassville-democrat.com

For nine women facing breast cancer, support from Power of Pink means more than just financial assistance — it is a reminder that they do not have to face the physical, emotional and financial challenges of cancer alone.

The organization, which supports women battling breast cancer, selected nine Pink Ladies this year to receive funds. Their personal testimonials detail the unexpected diagnoses, difficult treatment decisions, faith, family support and determination that have shaped their journeys.

The experiences vary, from women who discovered cancer during routine mammograms to those who pursued additional testing after recognizing that something was wrong. Several described how quickly life changed after receiving a diagnosis, while others reflected on the importance of early detection and the people who stood beside them throughout treatment.

For Gee Cee Grimsley, 64, the process began with a regularly scheduled mammogram Sept. 22, 2025. After additional imaging and five biopsies, she and her family received the diagnosis Nov. 4: ductal carcinoma in situ with triple-negative breast cancer.

Within days, Grimsley underwent additional testing to determine whether the cancer had spread and whether her heart was strong enough for chemotherapy. Treatment began Nov. 18, with weekly sessions expected to continue through late March or early April. Surgery and radiation were also part of the treatment plan she outlined in her testimonial.

The experience has created physical, emotional and financial challenges, particularly because she is no longer able to work.

Grimsley expressed gratitude to the employees at her veterinary clinic who nominated her for Power of Pink, as well as the family and friends who have supported her.

Power: Recipient thanks God for supporters

“I thank God everyday for all my family and friends that have been by my side and continued to pray for me everyday,” she wrote.

She added that organizations such as Power of Pink provide hope to women facing breast cancer.

For Tracey Howard, the diagnosis came July 9, 2025, when she read her biopsy results through an online patient portal. The results showed invasive lobular carcinoma in her left breast.

Howard, who has been married for 26 years and has seven children and eight grandchildren, initially struggled to believe the results were correct. She sought a second opinion at the University of Kansas hospital, where testing confirmed the diagnosis.

She underwent a lumpectomy Sept. 15, followed by 15 radiation treatments. Her treatment plan also included hormone-related medication and a hysterectomy scheduled for March 5, 2026, according to her account.

As a wife, mother, grandmother and longtime caregiver, Howard said accepting help from others has been one of the lessons of her cancer journey.

“I don’t like having to be the patient or the person who needs any help,” she wrote.

Despite the uncertainty that remains, Howard said she is determined not to allow cancer to take more of her happiness.

“I feel like that all cancer survivors have this fear that I am not going to let cancer steal any more of my joy than it already has!” she wrote.

Tina Collier, 53, described a different path to diagnosis. After experiencing unusual fatigue and a hemorrhage in her left eye in October 2024, she sought medical attention and questioned blood-work that showed an elevated white blood cell count. When she continued to feel that something was wrong, she scheduled a mammogram herself.

Additional imaging and biopsies eventually revealed stage 3, grade 3 triple-negative invasive ductal carcinoma.

Collier underwent a double mastectomy in February 2025 and subsequently completed five months of chemotherapy. She later underwent reconstructive surgery.

Throughout treatment, Collier continued to balance her responsibilities as a wife, mother and employer.

“Life doesn’t stop for cancer,” she wrote.

Collier credited her faith with helping her through treatment and said she found purpose in the people she encountered along the way.

“I know God has a reason for everything and placed people in my path through it all that I could share hope with and have Joy during this season,” she wrote.

Angela Woodward’s diagnosis came April 8, 2025, one day before her 49th birthday. What began as a routine mammogram led to an ultrasound and biopsy, all on the same day.

Woodward, a mother of two and grandmother of five, said her family history of cancer weighed heavily on her mind. She ultimately chose a double mastectomy and reconstruction after discussing her options and treatment plan.

Her treatment included hormone-blocking therapy intended to reduce the risk of recurrence. She also underwent a hysterectomy with removal of her ovaries because of other health considerations.

Woodward’s experience was also shaped by her son’s cancer journey two years earlier. Watching him undergo surgery and chemotherapy gave her a firsthand understanding of the uncertainty and challenges associated with treatment.

When she received her own diagnosis, she said she carried that experience with her.

Throughout her treatment and recovery, support from family, friends and other cancer survivors helped her maintain perspective.

“Breast cancer brought change into my life, but it did not define me,” Woodward wrote. “I stand as a testament that even in the hardest seasons, God is in control.”

Woodward also emphasized the importance of regular screenings and having a trusted medical team.

Andrea Sitzes described a diagnosis that developed into a more extensive battle than initially expected.

Sitzes had undergone multiple rounds of breast imaging and biopsies beginning in her early 30s after discovering lumps that were determined to be cysts. After a delayed annual mammogram, additional testing revealed cancer, and she was diagnosed March 7, 2025.

Initially diagnosed with stage 0 ductal carcinoma in situ, Sitzes said postoperative pathology revealed cancer cells throughout more than 60% of her right breast and a positive lymph node. Additional imaging raised concerns about possible spread to two other lymph nodes.

She subsequently completed 24 weeks of chemotherapy over eight sessions, followed by 15 radiation treatments.

Sitzes said she approached treatment with a structured exercise and wellness routine, completing consecutive days of the 75Hard and Phase 1 programs during chemotherapy and continuing with Phase 2 during radiation.

Her post-chemotherapy PET scan showed that the concerning lymph nodes were no longer measurable, according to her account.

Although she continues to navigate follow-up care and additional procedures, Sitzes said she is grateful for the opportunity to keep moving forward.

“Learning I had cancer saved my life and God is giving me a chance to live it,” she wrote.

Another recipient described discovering invasive lobular carcinoma in August 2025 after requesting answers from her doctor’s office about concerning test results. Further testing revealed stage 4 cancer that had spread to her spine.

The diagnosis was especially difficult to understand because the cancer was considered slow-growing, and she had not experienced symptoms that would have led her to suspect breast cancer. She also noted that she was younger than 40, an age at which yearly mammograms had not been recommended for her.

Now receiving ongoing medication and infusion treatments, she said she intends to continue fighting while looking toward milestones in her children’s lives and the possibility of someday spoiling grandchildren.

“I have kids, and I plan to watch them graduate, start their own lives and careers, and one day spoil my future grandkids,” she wrote.

Across the testimonials, the women described how cancer affected not only their health but also their families, employment, finances and sense of certainty about the future. They also repeatedly acknowledged the importance of people who offered prayers, encouragement and practical help.

For some, the experience meant learning to accept care after years of being the person others relied upon. For others, it reinforced the value of advocating for their health, seeking additional medical opinions or maintaining hope during treatment.

Power of Pink’s support offers assistance during a period when many patients face mounting demands and uncertainty. The recipients’ accounts reflect the different ways women navigate a breast cancer diagnosis, while sharing a common appreciation for the people and organizations that help them through it.

Their messages also extend beyond their own experiences, encouraging other women to pay attention to their health, seek answers when something seems wrong and recognize that support is available during difficult seasons.

People should get a flu vaccine every year for optimal protection against flu

CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone 6 months and older with rare exception. The reason for this is that a person's immune protection from vaccination declines over time, so an annual vaccination is needed to get the "optimal" or best protection against the flu. Additionally, flu viruses are constantly changing, so the vaccine composition is reviewed each year and updated as needed.

- Flu and People 65 Years and Older
- Flu vaccination is especially important for people 65 years and older because they are at higher risk of developing serious flu complications.
- While flu seasons vary in severity, during most seasons, people 65 years and older bear the greatest burden of severe flu disease.
- CDC and the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) preferentially recommend the use of higher dose flu vaccines (including high-dose inactivated and recombinant) or adjuvanted inactivated flu vaccine over standard-dose unadjuvanted flu vaccines for people 65 years and older.
- CDC recommends prompt flu antiviral treatment for people who have flu or suspected flu and who are at higher risk of serious flu complications, such as people 65 years and older.
- Take time to get a flu vaccine.
- Everyone 6 months and older should get a flu vaccine every season, especially people at higher risk.
- CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine as the first and most important action in reducing your risk of flu and its potentially serious outcomes.
- For 2026-2027 flu season, CDC recommends seasonal flu vaccination for children, pregnant women, and adults with only single-dose formulations of flu vaccine that are free of thimerosal as a preservative.
- Flu vaccines help to reduce the burden of flu illnesses, hospitalizations and deaths on the health care system each year.
- Flu vaccination also has been shown to reduce the severity of illness in people who get vaccinated but still get sick.
- All flu vaccines are designed to protect against three influenza viruses
- Everyone 6 months and older should get an annual flu vaccine, ideally by the end of October but people should continue to get vaccinated as long as flu viruses pose a threat to their community.
- Vaccination of people at higher risk of developing serious flu complications is especially important to decrease their risk of severe flu illness.
- People at higher risk of serious flu complications include young children, pregnant women, people with certain chronic health conditions like asthma, diabetes or heart and lung disease, and people 65 years and older.
- Vaccination also is important for health care workers and other people who live with or care for people at higher risk of serious flu illness to keep from spreading flu to them. This is especially true for people who work in long-term care facilities, which are home to many of the people most vulnerable to flu.
- Children younger than 6 months are at higher risk of serious flu illness but are too young to be vaccinated. People who care for infants should be vaccinated instead.
- Health care providers can support patients in making informed decisions about vaccinations.

The Barry County Health Department has the following vaccines available Monday through Thursday from 7:30am to 5:30pm as a walk-in service. Due to high demand, please call 417-847-2114 to verify availability and cost: Flulaval Trivalent, Fluarix Trivalent, Flublok Trivalent and Fluzone High Dose.

Lueckenhoff serving as new SPO

The Cassville school district has added an additional layer of safety with the addition of John Lueckenhoff serving as the district's School Protection Officer (SPO).

A School Protection Officer is a school district employee who is designated by the superintendent to assist with safety and security responsibilities within the district. The designation is reported to the Missouri Department of Public Safety.

Lueckenhoff is responsible for assisting with safety and security throughout the district, including law enforcement responsibilities. He also works alongside district administrators to address student, parent and visitor situations involving safety and security when needed.

"John's extensive military and law enforcement background made him an excellent choice to serve as our School Protection Officer," said Merlyn Johnson, Cassville superintendent. "Just as important, John has lived in the Cassville area for many years and has already built strong relationships with our students and families. His experience, judgment, and exceptional ability to connect with people will serve him well in this role and make him a tremendous asset to the safety and security of our district."

Lueckenhoff served six years in the United States Marine Corps before beginning a 25-and-a-half-year career with the Missouri State Highway Patrol. During his time with the Highway Patrol, he spent nine years as a member of the agency's SWAT Team.

He currently holds a Missouri Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST) license and a commission with the Barry County Sheriff's Department.

While this is his first year serving the district as the SPO, he is already a familiar face throughout campus. This marks his sixth year with Cassville after spending the previous five years serving as a full-time substitute teacher.

Lueckenhoff will work collaboratively with district administrators, staff and local law enforcement partners as Cassville continues its commitment to providing a safe and supportive learning environment for students and staff.

Bites from a watchdog at a Monett salvage yard resulted in two legal actions being filed in Barry County Circuit Court this week. According to records of the court, the cases include: Mary Saunders alleges the death of her husband, Dayton Saunders, on March 7, 1976, resulted from bites incurred on February 24, 1976, at the Ed Jones Salvage in Monett. She seeks a $25,000 judgment in the legal action. Rob Roberts also has filed charges in connection with injuries he alleged he received from the dog biting him on May 17, 1976. He asks a total of $3,500 in damages. Named in the two legal actions is Burl Thomas Jr., as doing business through the Jones firm. Reports are the dog is kept in the salvage firm to prohibit intruders entering the compound. In another damage action, Kathleen Brand and Ellsworth Brand have filed action against Norma Jean Harris for injuries reportedly received on April 5, 1976, in an auto accident on Highway 37 and Route HH in Barry County. Total damage amount is $28,495.

— SCHOOL BOARD DISCUSSES PARK; OPENS BUS BIDS

Meeting in regular session Thursday evening, the Cassville school board amended the agenda to include discussion of the park area. After the discussion, the board requested the superintendent to put up signs to discourage loitering and request the city to patrol that area on a regular basis and announced that additional lighting is also to be installed. Bids for buses were opened, and it was agreed to table discussion of purchasing or leasing buses until the special meeting October 23. This action was taken on a motion by Anglum and seconded by Buchheit. Financial statements were reviewed.

50 YEARS AGO: LAKE AREA AFTER LIFESAVING EQUIPMENT — Pictured above right is the Datascope, Monitor-Defibrillator, which the Shell Knob-Viola communities hope to add to an ambulance serving that area. The two-community effort is after $5,000 to purchase the equipment, which would be used only in the two Table Rock Lake communities. Motion by Cardin, seconded by Buchheit, to approve bills in the amount of $160,786.47. Administrative reports were presented by the three building principals. Some items discussed were a “Partners in Education” program to be implemented in the elementary school as well as a “Read-A-Thon” sponsored by World Book Encyclopedia in which the elementary and middle school will both participate. Mark Smith was present to present a review of the Regional Education Conference he attended at Republic on September 24. Smith gave a good overview of the meeting as well as suggestions for school/community involvement. Chapter 11 purchases as presented by the computer committee at a prior meeting were approved by the board. Prices were reviewed for installation of cabinets to complete the renovation of the science room and business department. The board approved the purchase of these items in order to complete the renovation project. Larry Quinalty reported that as yet no word had been received on the acceptance or rejection of the Impact Aid Application. Principals reported on CORE competencies and key skills and the plans they are making to implement teaching these required skills. Goal statements for the Superintendent Evaluation Program were presented to each member. Members are to list any goals they think should be met in the 1986-87 school year. An invitation from the Shell Knob board of education to attend one of their meetings was discussed. The board will look at a possible date in January or February. An In-Service Workshop in regards to CORE competencies in social studies and math has been scheduled for December from 2:00 until 7:00 p.m., with Warren Solomon and Bill Bolter to hold the workshops. A special meeting date was set for Thursday, October 23, at 7:00 p.m. Discussion was held as to whether a board policy should be written regarding tuition reimbursement for teachers. The board directed Superintendent

Bailey to submit a written policy for approval. Members present included Don Stockton, president; Tom Cardin, John Anglum, John Sullivan, Steve Buchheit and Dennis Ledgerwood. Others attending the meeting were Dan Bailey, superintendent; Wanda Paul, board secretary; principals Marple, Brower and Dunnam; Sandy Cullers, Rebecca Hudson, Ann Angle, Larry Quinalty and Mark Smith. — FARM CREDIT SERVICE CLOSES CASSVILLE OFFICE

Farm Credit Services office in Cassville will be closed permanently effective November 1, according to news releases issued this week from the district office. The Mount Vernon office will serve Barry County along with Dade and Lawrence counties. Persons wanting information or service from the Mount Vernon office who are not in the Mount Vernon phone exchange will have an 800 telephone number made available to them. Larry Gann, manager of the Cassville office, will join the staff at Mount Vernon. Other staffers there will include branch manager Larry Moennig and Greg Brown. Reduction in number of offices and better utilization of staff, phone system, electronic mail, computers and on-farm loan servicing are steps being taken by Farm Credit Services Southwest Missouri to bring operating costs in line. The depressed agriculture economy has placed tremendous pressure on the system, which lends money only to farmers and other agriculture interests. President/General Manager Bill Beckley has announced that 19 full-time offices and 11 contact points in the 31-county service territory will be reduced to eight branch offices. Employees will be reduced from 73 to 51. “It is estimated that a savings of over $500,000 a year will be realized,” says Beckley. The FCS of Southwest Missouri is part of the sixth district cooperative Farm Credit System (St. Louis District), which includes Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri. The district in turn is part of the nationwide Farm Credit System that carries one-third of the nation’s agriculture debt.

Regulation, not a ban: Finding a balance on
Table Rock

Petition seeks guidelines for wake surfing while preserving rights

Kellie Geraghty, of Shell Knob, said there seems to be an important misconception surrounding the growing effort to establish wake-boat regulations on Table Rock Lake — it is not an effort to ban wake boats.

"Wake boats and their owners should be able to travel throughout Table Rock Lake just like other recreational boaters," Geraghty said. "The concern is specifically with operating these boats in surf mode or with ballast engaged to intentionally create the large, high-energy waves necessary for wakesurfing."

The regulation being sought would require wake-surf (ballast full) operations to remain a minimum of 500 feet from shorelines, docks and other boats, along with appropriate minimum-depth requirements. Ballast empty no regulations

Research from the University of Minnesota's St. Anthony Falls Laboratory measured the height, energy and power of waves produced by wakesurf boats and conventional recreational boats. Researchers found that, under typical wakesurfing conditions, wakesurf boats required distances greater than 500 feet for their waves to diminish to characteristics comparable to those created by conventional recreational boats.

"This isn't about pointing fingers at wake-boat owners, and there should be no animosity toward the boats themselves or the people who enjoy them," Geraghty said. "It's about finding a way for all of us to share the lake."

"Table Rock Lake belongs to the fisherman who gets up before sunrise. It belongs to the family pulling children on a tube. It belongs to the pontoon boat slowly cruising the shoreline. It belongs to the people sitting on their docks, the homeowners along the water, and yes — it belongs to the people who love wakesurfing. There is room for everyone."

Geraghty said when one recreational activity begins affecting another person's safety, damaging docks or boats, impacting shorelines, or raising concerns about the long-term integrity of the lake, it becomes reasonable to establish boundaries that allow everyone to continue enjoying the water.

That is what this petition is asking for.

"Enjoy your boat," Geraghty said. "Cruise the lake. Have fun. And when you want to fill the ballast and create a surf wake, move into water where there is adequate depth and sufficient distance between you and shorelines, docks, other boats and people."

Five hundred feet is roughly the length of one and two-thirds football fields. On a lake the size of Table Rock, establishing appropriate areas for wakesurfing can allow the sport to continue while providing greater protection for docks, people and the ecosystem of the lake itself

"Reasonable regulation does not have to mean taking someone's recreation away," Geraghty said. "It can mean sharing the lake responsibly. The goal is balance — protecting people's ability to enjoy wakesurfing while also protecting property, personal safety, shorelines and the lake that brings all of us here in the first place."

"This effort isn't against wake boats. It's for Table Rock Lake — and for finding a solution that allows all of us to enjoy it together."

The petition may be found at <https://tinyurl.com/4n8znk9v>.

Barry County: Who will be the first to report an act of neighboring?

Missouri Good Neighbor Week is underway, and organizers are looking for stories of neighbors helping neighbors across the state.

So far, 102 counties have participation, but no acts of neighboring have been reported from Barry County.

"That doesn't mean good things aren't happening," a University of Missouri Extension press release said. "It means no one has reported them yet and Missouri Good Neighbor Week is inviting residents, businesses, churches, civic groups and community organizations to change that."

An "act of neighboring" can be simple: checking on an elderly neighbor, introducing yourself to someone who just moved in, sharing something with a neighbor, helping with a project, inviting someone over, picking up trash in the neighborhood, or simply taking time to learn a neighbor's name.

"The goal isn't to do something extraordinary," said David Burton, a community development specialist with University of Missouri Extension and creator of Missouri Good Neighbor Week. "It's to make neighborhood activity and interaction expected and normal."

Residents of Barry County are encouraged to report their acts of neighboring through the tools provided on the Missouri Good Neighbor Week website at missourigoodneighborweek.com.

"A single story can inspire another person, and another, until small acts become a community habit," the release said. "Who will be the first to report an act of neighboring from Barry County? Missouri Good Neighbor Week is ready to hear your story."

Fire: Gas meter at 1003 Mill Street failed, resulting in uncontrolled gas release

Personnel established a water supply and initiated fire attack. Initial suppression efforts focused on stopping the fire's extension at 1003 Mill Street and preventing further damage. An Exeter Fire District vehicle concentrated on fire suppression and exposure protection at the structure at 1007 Mill Street. Additional CFD units worked to suppress the outside fire and structure fire at 1005 Mill Street to the extent possible.

Extensive debris piles were present behind the structures and along the west side of the involved structure, creating additional challenges for suppression and overhaul operations. Additional personnel arriving on the third alarm assisted with operations and rotated with crews assigned to each structure.

During suppression operations, the natural gas meter serving the structure at 1003 Mill Street failed, resulting in an uncontrolled release of natural gas and complicating fire-fighting efforts. Butterfield Fire personnel were able to control the release.

During operations at 1007 Mill Street, another gas meter failed. Spire Gas personnel were unable to control the second release. Spire Gas requested an emergency crew to excavate the gas lines in the alley behind the structures and cap the lines to eliminate the hazard. Once the lines were capped and the area was determined safe for continued operations, crews completed fire suppression at 1005 Mill Street and conducted extensive overhaul of the debris piles behind the structure and along the west side.

Following suppression operations, Cassville Chief Privett interviewed the occupant of 1005 Mill Street. The occupant stated that she had started a fire in the backyard to cook hamburgers. She reported going inside the residence and, after some time had passed, being alerted by a neighbor who yelled that her yard was on fire. She stated that she went outside, observed the fire and attempted to extinguish it. Barry County E9-1-1 received numerous calls reporting the incident.

The report lists the heat source being too close to combustible as a factor contributing to the ignition, and the cause of the ignition was unintentional. The blaze resulted in major flame, smoke and water damage to the home at 1005 Mill Street, resulting in total property loss and occupant displacement.

Due to the extent of the fire, CFD Chief Derek Acheson requested the Missouri State Fire Marshal's Office to respond and investigate. Mutual aid crews were released and returned to service as operations allowed. CFD units also began returning to service, while Acheson remained on scene awaiting the Fire Marshal's arrival.

The American Red Cross was contacted to assist the displaced occupants, and two personnel responded to provide assistance. Barry Electric was also on scene to address electrical hazards and help ensure all three structures were safe.

The Missouri State Fire Marshal's investigator arrived and completed the scene examination and investigation.

Following completion of the investigation and confirmation that no further CFD assistance was required, all remaining CFD units and personnel cleared the scene and returned to service.

At least three people are listed in the report as involved in the incident, including residents of the home, James Manners and Carla Manners (Costlow), and property owner Gale Vanzandt. No one as injured, but multiple animals, including some snakes and two dogs, were lost in the blaze. Some other reptiles were saved.

Cassville had five units respond, including: a privately owned vehicle with two crew, a ladder truck with two crew, an engine with two crew, an engine with one crew and a brush truck with one crew. Cassville cleared the scene at 7:26 p.m.

Mutual aid was provided by the Eagle Rock-Golden-Mano Fire Protection District (one engine and three crew), Exeter Fire Protection District (rescue unit and three crew), Purdy Fire Protection District (brush truck, two engines and seven crew), Central Crossing Fire Protection District (one vehicle, a rescue truck and five crew), City of Monett Fire Department (chief vehicle, ladder truck and four crew) and Butterfield Fire Protection District (rescue truck and six crew).

‘Cats collect forfeit win over Miller Career Academy

BY KYLE TROUTMAN

Cassville Athletic Director Lance Parnell was prepping the field and on his way home for a change of clothes when he checked his email and learned the Wildcats’ Week 7 opponent, Miller Career Academy, was not coming to play.

Speculation aside, Cassville still does not know why the Phoenix failed to make the trip from St. Louis for the contest.

“We have not been given any reason why,” Parnell said. “I got the email at 2:48 p.m. Friday saying the football team would not be boarding the bus to travel. It said they were sorry for the inconvenience and understand the game would be a forfeit loss.

“e called their athletic director’s office and cell and got no answer, and the school district was not answering. We eventually called MSHSAA and they confirmed Miller Career Academy was not coming. They called the St. Louis public schools athletic director, and she was unaware they were not traveling. We still have no idea why. We sent emails but have received no response, and it doesn’t matter now.”

Per a contractual agreement, Cassville was suppose to pay Miller Career Academy a sum of money to help with their travel, but no funds ever changed hands. The Wildcats player the Phoenix in 2006 and 2007, assisting financially with travel in those contests both times.

Cassville was originally scheduled to play Springfield Central in Week 7, but that school notified Cassville on Aug. 1 that they would not be able to field a team, forcing the Wildcats and multiple other Big 8 schools to find another opponent.

Parnell said though it was an unfortunate turn of events only hours away from Homecoming festivities, he was proud of how the district and community responded.

“I’m very proud of the Cassville community for coming out and supporting our students for essentially a pregame show, Homecoming coronation and band and cheer performances,” Parnell said. I could not be more proud and could not ask to live or work in a better place.”

Parnell said once the district learned there would be no game, administration and staff sprung into action. He credited

9 runners set personal records at home meet

BY KYLE TROUTMAN

ktroutman@cassville-democrat.com

For the Cassville boys and girls cross country teams, there’s no place like home.

The program is building momentum heading into the postseason, with improving individual times and nine personal records at the Cassville Pink Out Invitational home meet on Oct. 6.

The Lady Wildcats finished fourth as a team, led by Hattie Lyons’ fifth-place finish in 22:08.20. Molly Cox took 24th and Lydia Cupps 25th, with times of 25:59.40 and 26:13.70, respectively. Brooklyn Krallman was 44th in 33:03.20, and Elizabeth Fohn took 50th in 38:36.10. Sixteen total schools competed in the race.

For the boys, Nathan Lyons, Hattie’s twin, matched his sister’s finish by taking fifth in 18:34.40. Peyton Anderson took 33rd with a time of 21:52.00, Daniel Sledden was 43rd in 22:26.70 and Clay Williamson finished 56th in 25:42.10. Eighteen total schools participated in the race.

“Overall, I feel like the season has gone well,” Kirk said. “We have several individual runners who have been competitive at our meets, and it’s been exciting to watch them grow throughout the season. We’ve seen a lot of improvement, and I feel like we’re starting to hit our peak as we head into the postseason.”

Cassville’s recent performances have reflected that development, and Kirk said watching athletes see the results of their training has been fulfilling.

“I’ve been pleased with the improvements we’ve seen in individual times throughout the season,” she said. “It’s rewarding as a coach to see their hard work start to pay off.”

Cassville’s home meet provided another opportunity for that progress to show.

“I was really excited about our performances at our home meet,” Kirk said. “We had nine runners set new PRs, which is a big accomplishment. It was especially rewarding to see them have that kind of success in front of our home crowd.”

The meet also featured a slight course change that received mixed reviews from coaches and runners.

Kirk said other coaches offered positive feedback about the adjustment, which helped reduce congestion around the area known as “tent city.” Runners, however, had to contend with an additional hill.

The change fits the character of a course in which Cassville takes pride.

“We take a lot of pride in our course,” Kirk said. “I feel like it’s a true cross country course with the wooded areas, creek crossings, and now an additional hill. It’s challenging, but that’s part of what makes cross country such a great sport.”

As the postseason approaches, Kirk said the Wildcats’ focus has shifted toward the mental side of racing, along with the smaller details that can make a difference late in the season.

Cross country demands physical endurance, but runners must also maintain confidence when races become difficult, she said. Staying healthy and being prepared to perform at the right time are priorities as the team enters championship competition.

“Cross country is just as much mental as it is physical, and I want our runners to continue building confidence in their ability to push through the difficult parts of their races,” Kirk said. “At this point in the season, it’s just little things, staying healthy, and making sure we’re running our best for when it matters most.”

Cassville’s next major test comes at the Big 8 Conference Championships on Oct. 20 at Seneca.

“Our biggest goal is to go out and compete well,” she said. “I feel like we have a few runners who have a legitimate opportunity to earn all-conference honors, and I’d love to see them accomplish that.”

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Missouri and Statutory Proposition

To be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri at the General Election to be held on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 2026.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 3

[Proposed by 103rd General Assembly (First Regular Session) HCS HJR 73]

OFFICIAL BALLOT TITLE:

- Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to:
- Repeal the 2024 voter-approved Amendment providing reproductive healthcare rights, including abortion through fetal viability;
 - Allow abortions for rape and incest (under twelve-weeks' gestation), emergencies, and fetal anomalies;
 - Allow legislation regulating abortion;
 - Ensure parental consent for minors' abortions;
 - Prohibit gender transition procedures for minors?

State governmental entities estimate no costs or savings. Greene County estimates it may experience an unknown increase in tax revenue. Other local governmental entities estimate no costs or savings.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 2026, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article I of the Constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section A. Section 36, Article I, Constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as Section 36(a), to read as follows:

Section 36(a). 1. The state's duty to protect public health and welfare includes protecting the integrity and ethics of the medical profession. The state's interest in regulating the practice of medicine is even greater in areas of medical and scientific uncertainty or in areas that raise grave moral and ethical concerns, including abortion and gender transition procedures.

2. An abortion may be performed or induced upon a woman in cases of medical emergency, fetal anomaly, rape, or incest. In the case of abortions performed or induced in cases of rape or incest, the abortion may be performed or induced no later than twelve weeks gestational age of the unborn child.

3. The general assembly may enact laws that regulate the provision of abortions, abortion facilities, and abortion providers to ensure the health and safety of the pregnant mother. These laws shall include, but not be limited to, laws requiring physicians providing abortion care to have admitting privileges at a nearby hospital; laws requiring facilities where abortions are performed or induced to be licensed and inspected for clean and safe conditions and adequate instruments to treat any emergencies arising from an abortion procedure; laws requiring physicians to perform a sufficient examination of the woman to determine the unborn child's gestational age and any preexisting medical conditions that may influence the procedure; and laws requiring ultrasounds to be performed only by physicians or licensed medical technicians.

4. No abortion shall be performed or induced upon a woman based on a prenatal diagnosis, test, or screening indicating a disability in an unborn child, except in cases of a fetal anomaly.

5. No public funds shall be expended for the purpose of performing, inducing, or otherwise assisting any abortion, except in cases of medical emergency, rape, or incest, as otherwise authorized by law.

6. Except in cases of a medical emergency in which consent cannot be obtained, no abortion shall be performed or induced upon a woman without her voluntary and informed consent, given freely and without coercion. In the case of a minor under the age of eighteen years who is not emancipated, no person shall knowingly perform or induce an abortion, except in cases of a medical emergency in which consent cannot be obtained, unless the attending physician has obtained: (1) the written consent of the minor and a parent or legal guardian; and (2) documentation of the consent is retained in the minor's medical record. Licensed medical physicians shall be required to provide women with medically accurate information. The general assembly may enact laws to provide for the right of a minor to consent to an abortion as granted by a court order.

7. Fetal organ harvesting after an abortion is not permitted under any circumstances

8. A woman's ability to access health care in cases of miscarriages, ectopic pregnancies, and other medical emergencies shall not be infringed by the state.

9. No gender transition surgeries shall be knowingly performed on children under eighteen years of age, and no cross-sex hormones or puberty-blocking drugs shall be knowingly prescribed or administered for the purpose of gender transition to children under eighteen years of age. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the use of such surgeries, drugs, or hormones to treat children born with a medically verifiable disorder of sex development or to treat any infection, injury, disease, or disorder unrelated to the purpose of a gender transition.

10. Any action challenging the validity of any state law relating to reproductive health care shall be brought in the Circuit Court of Cole County, Missouri. If a pleading, written motion, or other paper drawing into question the constitutionality of a state statute does not include the state, one of its agencies, or one of its officers or employees in an official capacity, the party bringing the action shall file a notice of constitutional question and serve it on the attorney general and the attorney general shall have the right to intervene in the litigation.

11. The general assembly shall have the authority to enact laws to carry out the provisions of this section.

12. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Cross-sex hormones", testosterone, estrogen, or other androgens given to an individual in amounts that are greater or more potent than would normally occur naturally in a healthy individual of the same age and sex;

(2) "Fetal anomaly", a structural or functional abnormality in the unborn child's gestational development that would make life outside the womb impossible;

(3) "Fetal organ harvesting", collection of fetal tissue, organs, or fluids, including any biological material, for the purpose of selling or collecting for scientific purposes, but shall not include the utilization of fetal tissue, organs, or fluids to determine the cause or causes of any anomaly, illness, death, or genetic condition of the unborn child, the paternity of the unborn child, or for law enforcement purposes;

(4) "Gender transition surgery", a surgical procedure performed for the purpose of assisting an individual with identifying with and living as a gender different from his or her biological sex;

(5) "Medical emergency", a condition that, based on reasonable medical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate termination of her pregnancy to avert the death of the pregnant woman or for which a delay will create a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman. A medical emergency shall include, but not be limited to, an ectopic pregnancy at any point following the diagnosis of such and treatment for a miscarriage;

(6) "Puberty-blocking drugs", gonadotropin-releasing hormone analogues or other synthetic drugs used to stop luteinizing hormone secretion and follicle stimulating hormone secretion, synthetic antiandrogen drugs to block the androgen receptor, or any other drug used to delay or suppress pubertal development in children for the purpose of assisting an individual with a gender transition;

(7) "Reasonable medical judgment", a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician, knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.

13. All provisions of this section are severable. If any provision of this section is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or unconstitutionally enacted, the remaining provisions of this section shall be and remain valid.

[Section 36.4 This Section shall be known as "The Right to Reproductive Freedom Initiative":

— 2. The Government shall not deny or infringe upon a person's fundamental right to reproductive freedom, which is the right to make and carry out decisions about all matters relating to reproductive health care, including but not limited to prenatal care, childbirth, postpartum care, birth control, abortion care, miscarriage care, and respectful birthing conditions:

— 3. The right to reproductive freedom shall not be denied, interfered with, delayed, or otherwise restricted unless the Government demonstrates that such action is justified by a compelling governmental interest achieved by the least restrictive means. Any denial, interference, delay, or restriction of the right to reproductive freedom shall be presumed invalid. For purposes of this Section, a governmental interest is compelling only if it is for the limited purpose and has the limited effect of improving or maintaining the health of a person seeking care, is consistent with widely accepted clinical standards of practice and evidence-based medicine, and does not infringe on that person's autonomous decision-making:

— 4. Notwithstanding subsection 3 of this Section, the general assembly may enact laws that regulate the provision of abortion after Fetal Viability provided that under no circumstance shall the Government deny, interfere with, delay, or otherwise restrict an abortion that in the good faith judgment of a treating health care professional is needed to protect the life or physical or mental health of the pregnant person:

— 5. No person shall be penalized, prosecuted, or otherwise subjected to adverse action based on their actual, potential, perceived, or alleged pregnancy outcomes, including but not limited to miscarriage, stillbirth, or abortion. Nor shall any person assisting a person in exercising their right to reproductive freedom with that person's consent be penalized, prosecuted, or otherwise subjected to adverse action for doing so:

— 6. The Government shall not discriminate against persons providing or obtaining reproductive health care or assisting another person in doing so:

— 7. If any provision of this Section or the application thereof to anyone or to any circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of those provisions and the application of such provisions to others or other circumstances shall not be affected thereby:

— 8. For purposes of this Section, the following terms mean:

— (1) "Fetal Viability", the point in pregnancy when, in the good faith judgment of a treating health care professional and based on the particular facts of the case, there is a significant likelihood of the fetus's sustained survival outside the uterus without the application of extraordinary medical measures:

— (2) "Government",

— a. the state of Missouri; or

— b. any municipality, city, town, village, township, district, authority, public subdivision or public corporation having the power to tax or regulate, or any portion of two or more such entities within the state of Missouri.}

Section B. Pursuant to chapter 116, and other applicable constitutional provisions and laws of this state allowing the general assembly to adopt ballot language for the submission of this joint resolution to the voters of this state, the official summary statement of this resolution shall be as follows:

• Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to:

- Guarantee access to care for medical emergencies, ectopic pregnancies, and miscarriages;

- Ensure women's safety during abortions;
- Ensure parental consent for minors;
- Allow abortions for medical emergencies, fetal anomalies, rape, and incest;
- Require physicians to provide medically accurate information; and
- Protect children from gender transition??"

EXPLANATION — Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets [thus] in the above bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted from the law. Matter in bold-face type in the above bill is proposed language.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 6

[Proposed by Initiative Petition]

OFFICIAL BALLOT TITLE:

- Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to:
- expand the initiative and referendum petition process by making it a fundamental right;
 - allow courts to revise ballot summaries through lawsuits;
 - prohibit the legislature from weakening initiative or referendum powers;
 - prohibit the legislature from changing or repealing laws enacted through the initiative process, or passing laws similar to those rejected by referendum, without approval from at least 80% of both chambers; and
 - preserve existing majority vote and signature requirements for initiative and referendum petitions?

State and local governmental entities estimate no costs or savings.

Be it resolved by the people of the state of Missouri that the Constitution be amended:

Article III of the Constitution is revised by adding six new sections to be known as Article III, Sections 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, and 59 to read as follows:

Section 54. Ballot summaries, including summary statements and fiscal note summaries, shall be clear, unbiased, fair, accurate, and easy to understand. Ballot summaries shall not seek to mislead voters. No current or future law passed by the legislature shall prevent the circuit court or appellate courts, including the supreme court, from immediately adjudicating and rewriting ballot summaries in whole or in part.

Section 55.

1. The legislature shall be prohibited from weakening citizens' initiative or referendum powers: no law passed by the legislature and no legislatively-referred law or constitutional amendment shall weaken citizens' initiative or referendum powers, not withstanding Sections 2(a) and 2(b) of Article XII of this Constitution. Section 1 of Article III of this Constitution, and any other provision or law or of this Constitution to the contrary. The phrase "weaken citizens initiative or referendum powers" shall be construed broadly, examples thereof including, but not being limited to, raising signature thresholds: shortening the time allowed for signature collection: narrowing allowable subject matter: imposing additional requirements on petitioners: preventing or delaying judicial revision of misleading ballot titles: prohibiting or nullifying severability clauses in initiated measures: rendering a simple statewide majority of votes cast on the measure insufficient to enact a law or constitutional amendment proposed by citizen initiative, or otherwise impeding or restricting citizens' powers of initiative or referendum. Any law or constitutional amendment that weakens citizens' direct lawmaking power, which is or has been proposed by the legislature after January 1, 2025, is hereby prohibited.

2. The rights of initiative and referendum as set forth in this Constitution are fundamental rights. Any registered voter or the state of Missouri has a right to propose laws and constitutional amendments by initiative petition and to propose the rejection or acts by the legislature by referendum petition, to sign such petitions, to circulate such petitions, and to vote on such petitions. However, no person shall qualify as a petition circulator who has been convicted of, found guilty of, or pled guilty to an offense involving forgery under the laws or this state or an offense under the law or any other jurisdiction if that offense would be considered forgery under the laws or this state.

3. Except as specifically set forth in this Constitution, any law affecting governmental regulation of, or governmental action taken pertaining to, the fundamental rights of initiative and referendum as set forth in this Constitution is subject to strict scrutiny and must be narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling governmental interest.

Section 56.

1. As of the effective date of this section, the legislature shall be prohibited from changing any citizen-initiated law, changing any citizen-initiated amendment, or passing, proposing, or referring any law or constitutional amendment similar in effect to a law rejected by referendum petition, unless eighty percent of the House and Senate refer the change to a vote of the people, notwithstanding any provision of law or of this Constitution to the contrary.

2. For the purposes of this section, a "citizen-initiated law" is defined to be a law that the people have proposed and enacted by the initiative. For the purposes of this section, a "citizen-initiated amendment" is defined to be any section or article of this Constitution, or any portion thereof, that the people have proposed and enacted by the initiative as a constitutional amendment. For the purposes of this section, "changing" a citizen-initiated law or citizen-initiated amendment means passing, proposing, or referring a law or constitutional amendment which, if enacted, would modify, repeal, supersede, or undermine any part or a citizen-initiated law or citizen-initiated amendment, whether explicitly or by implication. For the purposes of this section, a law "rejected by referendum petition" is a law which has been passed by the legislature then subsequently rejected by the people by way of a referendum ordered by petition. For the purposes of this section, "unless eighty percent of the House and Senate refer the change to a vote of the people" shall mean at least eighty percent of the members of the House and at least eighty percent or the members of the Senate each separately vote to refer the proposed law or constitutional amendment to voters.

3. The prohibitions of this section shall be construed to protect laws and constitutional provisions enacted by citizen initiative after January 1, 2010, including both those enacted before and after the effective date of this section, and to protect referendum petition vetoes after January 1, 2010, including both those before and after the effective date of this section, from action by the legislature on or after the effective date of this section. "Referendum petition vetoes" shall mean when laws passed by the legislature are rejected by the citizens by referendum petition.

4. This section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the legislature of the right to introduce any bill or measure, but passage, proposal, or rererral thereof by this legislature is subject to the prohibitions and requirements of this section.

Section 57. Notwithstanding any other provision of law or of this Constitution to the contrary, pre-existing signature and vote requirements shall be maintained, as follows: a simple statewide majority of votes cast on the measure by individual legal voters shall be sufficient to enact any law or constitutional amendment proposed by initiative petition; a simple statewide majority of votes cast on the measure by individual legal voters shall be sufficient to reject any law upon which a referendum is ordered by referendum petition; signatures from five percent of the individual legal voters in each of two-thirds of Missouri's congressional districts shall be sufficient to propose a law; signatures from eight percent or the individual legal voters in each of two-thirds of Missouri's congressional districts shall be sufficient to propose a constitutional amendment; signatures from five percent of the individual legal voters in each of two-thirds of Missouri's congressional districts shall be sufficient to order a referendum; and the number of signatures required shall be calculated based on the total vote for governor at the general election last preceding the filing of any petition. Notwithstanding any other provision or law or of this Constitution to the contrary, any law or constitutional amendment referred to voters by petition shall be decided when approved or rejected by a majority of the votes cast thereon, and not otherwise.

Section 58. Sections 54, 55, 56, and 57 are self-executing and shall be construed to strongly protect the citizens' powers of initiative and referendum, all political power being vested in the people and rounded upon their will only.

Section 59. If any provision or Sections 54, 55, 56, 57, or 58, or the application thereof to anyone or to any circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of those provisions and the application or such provisions to others or other circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 7

[Proposed by 103rd General Assembly (Second Regular Session) SS SCS SJR 95]

OFFICIAL BALLOT TITLE:

Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to establish a permanent public endowment fund to support state government instead of taxing Missouri residents, prohibit the General Assembly from appropriating or diverting the fund, and eliminate state-imposed taxes once the fund generates sufficient revenue to replace them?

State and local governmental entities estimate no costs or savings.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 2026, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article IV of the Constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section A. Article IV, Constitution of Missouri, is amended by adding thereto one new section, to be known as section 15(a), to read as follows:

Section 15(a). 1. There is hereby established within the state treasury a fund to be known as the "Show-Me Prosperity Fund", which shall be established as a permanent public endowment to provide long-term fiscal stability with the goal of eliminating state-imposed taxes without impairing the real value of the fund's principal. The fund shall consist of moneys appropriated to it by the general assembly, and may also receive gifts, donations, grants, and bequests from any source.

2. (1) The state treasurer shall invest the fund in exchange-traded funds tracking the stock performance of the Standard and Poor's 500, or a comparable successor index to be determined by law, in a manner consistent with fiduciary standards applicable to public trust funds.

(2) No moneys shall be appropriated from the fund prior to notification given by the state treasurer to the general assembly that the net investment earnings for the fund during the previous fiscal year is sufficient to replace the revenue generated by all taxes enumerated in subdivision (3) of this subsection, provided that any such notification shall be approved by the general assembly through a concurrent resolution within the first sixty calendar days of the regular session immediately following the notification given by the state treasurer.

(3) Moneys appropriated from the fund shall be used solely to eliminate the following state-imposed taxes:

- (a) The individual income tax;
- (b) The state sales and use tax;
- (c) The state corporate income tax; and
- (d) All other state-imposed tax in an order of priority to be determined by law.

(4) The amount of moneys that may be appropriated from the fund in any fiscal year shall not exceed three percent of the average market value of the fund over the preceding five fiscal years. The provisions of this subdivision shall not be construed to prohibit the general assembly from appropriating less than three percent of the average market value of the fund in any fiscal year.

(5) Upon the elimination of the taxes enumerated in subdivision (3) of this subsection, no such tax shall thereafter be enacted, provided, however, that in the event the fund is unable to meet its obligations due to insolvency, revenue shortfall, or program failure, the general assembly shall retain full authority to appropriate funds from any lawful source and to enact legislation establishing or increasing taxes or other revenues as necessary to ensure continuity of state programs and fulfillment of state expenditures that were anticipated to be supported by the fund.

(6) Upon the elimination of all taxes enumerated in subdivision (3) of this subsection, the general assembly may appropriate net investment earnings from the fund for the purpose of replacing federal moneys received by the state, for issuing dividend payments to residents of the state, or both.

3. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the principal of the fund shall not be appropriated, pledged, or borrowed against. The state auditor shall conduct an audit of the fund to ensure compliance with the provisions of this section at such times that the auditor deems necessary, but no less than once every three fiscal years.

4. The balance and investment performance of the fund shall be made available and updated at least quarterly on an existing free, internet-based database created by law or executive order for the purpose of tracking state and local financial information.

5. For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

- (1) "Individual income tax", the tax imposed on individuals, estates, and trusts, and the fiduciaries thereof;
- (2) "Net investment earnings", all income, gains, and appreciation realized by the fund, net of investment management fees and expenses.

Section B. Pursuant to chapter 116, and other applicable constitutional provisions and laws of this state allowing the general assembly to adopt ballot language for the submission of this joint resolution to the voters of this state, the official summary statement of this resolution shall be as follows:

"Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to establish a permanent public endowment fund to support state government instead of taxing Missouri residents, prohibit the General Assembly from appropriating or diverting the fund, and eliminate state-imposed taxes once the fund generates sufficient revenue to replace them?"

XC: Clever's course for districts flatter than most, still presents challenges

Beyond individual honors, Kirk wants her athletes to approach the meet with confidence and put themselves in position to achieve their goals. Seneca's hilly course could work in Cassville's favor.

"It's a pretty hilly course, which I actually think plays to our advantage," Kirk said. "We incorporate hills into our training regularly, and I feel like our runners have developed a strong mentality when it comes to attacking them rather than dreading them."

Seneca typically hosts its regular-season meet when temperatures are still relatively warm. Kirk is looking forward to seeing how Cassville performs on the same course in cooler conditions during the conference championship.

She believes the change in weather could provide another opportunity for the team to produce strong results.

After conference, Cassville will turn its attention to the district meet at Clever where runners will pursue opportunities to qualify for the state championships.

"Our goal is always to give our runners the opportunity to compete at the highest level — the state meet," she said. "I believe we have some runners who are capable of putting themselves in that position, but they'll have to go out and earn it. At this point, we just want to make sure they're prepared to run their best races."

Clever's course is flatter than several of the courses Cassville has faced this season, although it still offers enough variation to challenge runners.

Kirk hopes the runners' work on hills and more demanding routes will pay dividends.

"I think that combination could work well for our runners," she said. "We've spent a lot of time training on hills and challenging routes, so I'm hopeful that the strength we've built throughout the season will translate into some fast times on a flatter course."

Football: Wildcats currently 1st in district standings

ed high school and district admins and staff for notifying workers of the forfeit and putting together an evening that included the coronation, band performance and cheer performance.

Clay Weldy, Cassville football coach, said the Wildcats were obviously disappointed the game went unplayed, and his heart was heaviest for his seniors who lost their last home regular season game.

"The positive is we still have a lot of ball left," he said. "We're going to move on to Mt. Vernon, a team that's in our conference in our district. So, that game has a lot of importance to it."

"The kids handled it pretty well for what happened. On the bright side, we got a win and we came out healthy; we wish we would have played the game because you only get so many opportunities to play games in high school. That's frustrating, but our kids are pretty resilient, and they're excited about the future."

Weldy said the team was together most of the afternoon prior to the game, and they ate pizza after the homecoming festivities and went on about their evenings.

"I think a lot of guys went out and did stuff together because it was homecoming weekend," he said. "They had a touch football game going on in the field house before the Homecoming coronation, so we just let them blow off some steam and relax."

Looking ahead, the Wildcats have another wrench in the schedule this week, facing Mt. Vernon on the road on Saturday at 1 p.m. instead of the normal Friday night lights game

"We're going to do a team breakfast and do a walkthrough, then head to Mt. Vernon," Weldy said. "We're trying to earn home games when it matters in district time, especially since we only had four home games and just lost one. If we can take care of these games in the regular season, we'll get a better seed and have a better chance for home games."

"We have to go take care of business to secure some home games four ourselves."

Cassville has held steady as the No. 3 squad in Class 3, even following the Week 6 loss to Lamar. District-wise, the Wildcats lead the seven-team pack, with Seneca in second and Nevada in third. The Wildcats defeated Seneca earlier this season, putting them in prime position to hold on to the No. 1 seed in the district with games against the Mountaineers.
